LECTURE BY ROOSEVELT

"AMERICANISM" AS VIEWED BY PATRIOTIC AMERICAN.

What It Means and How It Should B Maintained-Duty of Citizens of All Classes.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 23 .- Governor Roosevelt this afternoon delivered a lecture on "Americanism" for the benefit of the Jewish Chautauqua, which is holding its annual summer session. An audience of about 2,500 people greeted Colonel Roosevelt and exhibited much enthusiasm. The gathering was in the large auditorium on the steel pier. Afterward Colonel Roosevelt shook hands with many of those who had listened to his lecture. He returned to New York to-night.

Governor Roosevelt said in part: There are two or three things that Americanism means. In the first place, it means that we shall give to our fellowman, to our fellow-citizens, the same wide latitude as to his individual beliefs that we demand for ourselves; that so long as a man does his work as a man should we shall not inquire, we shall not hold for or against him in civic life, his method of paying homage a reform, permanent and lasting reform, by resolution. You have got to get it by the sense of performing duty so it appeals | and left for Baltimore. to the individual. You are going to get good government, not by some movement or succession of movements, each of which may be a little hysterical. You are not going to get good government by that. You are going to get good government as each man gets good gradually fixed in his conscience, that he is to be held blame worthy, to be held derelect in his duty if he does not, in season and out, not spasmodically, but regularly, do his duty

"Americanism means work, means effort means the constant and unending strife with our conditions, which is not only the law of nature if the face is to progress but which is really the law of the highest happiness for us ourselves. The highest happiness to the soul that is capable of having high happines must come from the consciouness of having done work well. having done worthily a work worth doing. And on that point, as part of Americanism, we need again to keep in view two facts-to do work worth doing, in other words, to have a high ideal, and yet to strive to attain that ideal in practical fashan American citizen in his way of dealing with American purposes and interest. "Now for another side of Americanism, the side of the work, of the strife, of the active performance of duty-one side of Americanism, one side of democracy. Our democracy means that we have no privithe duties or deprived of the privileges that are implied in words, 'American citizenship.' Now that principle has two sides to it itself, for all of us would be likely to dwell continuously on one side; all have equal rights. It is more important that we should dwell on the other side, that is, that we all have our duties, and that the rights cannot be kept until the duties are performed. WITNESSES TESTIFY AGAINST ALEXANDER JESTER.

Two Men from Richmond Tell of the Burning of Gates's Trunk-Jester's

Sister Testifies as to His Cruelty.

NEW LONDON, Mo., July 23 .- The third week of the trial of Alexander Jester began to-day, with A. M. Martin, of Indiana, on the witness stand. He swore that he first met Jester on the streets of Webster, Ind. He made arrangements to meet Jester at Indianapolis and accompany him overland to the Jester farm, near Wichita, Kan. Witness described their journey through the States and the property Jester had, much of which corresponds with the property of Gilbert Gates. Witness also swore that between Fort Scott and Unionton, Kan., Jester burned up a trunk. This is supposed to have been the trunk telonging to the missing Gates. R. V. Martin, also of Indiana, testified that he accompanied Jester and the Street party from Indiana to Kansas. He saw Jester burn a trunk on the route while in save for cause shown by his conduct as | Kansas. He had never seen the trunk until it was on the fire. He was impressed with Jester's demeanor-being so reserved and guarded in what he said.

Joseph H. Thompson, of Richmond, Ind., testified that Jester stopped at his home leged class, no class that is exempt from | in 1871 and stayed there about a week. He bad two teams, and when asked where he got the bay team said he "dickered for it from a young fellow who was traveling with him." The boy was traveling with him, he said, but got tired and left him in Missouri to go home. The witness said that after Jester left he found some grain sacks in the barn with the name of A. A. > General Knox continued: "The wire and main line of the railway north of Honingspruit have been cut and also the telegraph to Pretoria, via Potchefstroom. According to my information De Wet has crossed the railway and is going north.

> "General Kelly-Kenny telegraphs from Bloemfontein, under date of Sunday, July 22: 'The railway has been cut north of Honingspruit and a supply train and one hundred Highlanders captured by the enemy. A report was received this morning that a large force of the enemy is moving on Honingspruit. All communication with Pretoria is cut off. The Second and Third Cavalry Brigades are following the enemy.'

> The War Office has received a telegram from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, July which repeats the news contained in telegram from General Forestier-Walker, given above, and continues: "Methuen continued his march after the occupation of Heckport, and engaged the enemy's rear guard at Zindsfontein, July 20. Casualties, one killed and one wounded. Early Saturday he attacked the enemy again at Oliphant's nek, and completely dispersed them inflicting heavy loss. Our casualties were slight. By these successes Rustenburg has been relieved and Methuen and Baden-Powell have joined hands. Our casualties were three of the Camerons killed and Captain Keith-Hamilton, of the Oxfords, Captain Brown and Lieutenant Stewart and thirteen men of the Camerons wounded.'

Treatment of Rebels.

LONDON, July 24 .- A blue book has been issued containing the official correspondence with reference to the treatment of rebels in South Africa. It contains an interesting note by Sir Alfred Milner, British high commissioner, estimating the number of colonists who joined the Boers 10,000. Burned Houses and Putrid Bodies Visthle All Around the Town.

LONDON, July 23.-Advices just received here say that Colonel Willcox, the commander of the relief column in Ashanti, describes his entrance into Kumassi July 15 as presenting a scene of horror and desolation, burned houses and putrid bodies being visible on all sides. He adds that the native soldiers were too weak to stand. and that the British officers thanked God for the relief, as a few more days, they declared, would have seen the end. Colonel Willcox left the garrison well supplied with food and ammunition.

The success of Colonel Willcox was due to his choice of a route not suspected by the Ashantis, who had concentrated in thousands along the eastern route, but in much smaller numbers along the western route, via Picci, which Colonel Willcox adopted. Even as it was, the Ashantis were active, and the roads knee deep in Colonel willcox took a couple of viliages by bayonet charge. Beyond Ekwanda he found the tribesmen in a strong position behind stockades. It was a large war camp with the chief commander of the Ashantis army, estimated at 4,000 men. The Bloodthirsty Apache Made Insane by Long Imprisonment.

VINITA, I. T., July 23.-After a long period of imprisonment, which he endured more like a ferocious beast than like a human being, Geronimo, one of the most bloodthirsty Indians that ever figured in history, has gone stark mad. He is a prisoner at Fort Sill, O. T.

It cost the government $1,000,000 and hundreds of lives before he was safely behind iron bars. Deprived of his liberty as a punishment for his crimes, he could not stand the confinement. For fourteen years he has been a prisoner of war-the last ten at Fort Sill. In March, 1886, after four years of constant chase, General Miles nered Geronimo in the Four Peaks basin, near Prescott, A. CANTON, O., July 23 .- President and Mrs. McKinley took their usual airings today, a drive in the cool morning and an other after the sun had set. They also received a large number of callers, both from the city and out of town. The President had many business callers from people who came on personal matters, such as pensions or little matters before one or another of the departments, hoping by the President's aid to secure prompter or more satisfactory results. For the most part these were greeted on the porch, where the President met them with a hearty handshake and listened attentively to their statements. Much time was spent in the library, where the official business is conducted, but not an inkling of business in regard to China or to any other subject was given out: The announced intention to leave everything possible to the Washington officials during the vacation period is strictly adhered to and all inquiries are answered with a statement to that ef-

Large Cold Storage Building Filled with Produce Burned.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 23.-The St. Paul Cold Storage and Warehouse Company's large warehouse was destroyed by fire today. The total loss is estimated at $750,000, with an insurance of $550,000. The warehouse was filled with butter, fruit, tobacco, eggs, tea, whisky and other commodities. During the progress of the fire one of th walls of the building collapsed, and several firemen had narrow escapes. The entire contents of the warehouse were destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Other Fires.

CHATTANOOGA, July 23 .- Fire to-day burned the power house of the Chattanooga & Chickamauga Park rapid-transit line. The machinery and dynamos were only partly damaged, and all the rolling stock was saved. The loss is $35,000, which is fully covered by insurance. The company will use steam cars, and the power house will immediately rebuild.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 23.-The Lehigh Valley freighthouse, at East Buffalo, together with fifty cars loaded with merchandise, was destroyed by fire to-day. Loss, $150,000, divided as follows: Building, $50,000; freight cars and contents, $100,000.

of Richard Croker, were adopted. They "Tammany Hall believes in the supremacy of the American flag wherever it floats, but that it should float nowhere as the symbol of liberty and civil servitude combined, for that is a combination which can work only disorder to the flag and American institutions.

"It believes in that character of territorial expansion which was favored by the fathers of Democracy-not expansion by the shedding of American blood on soil where the Constitution can never follow the flag, but in that which has added the glory and the prosperity of our Union; not in that which is to the Union a source of disgrace and disaster. "The Republican party, while professing desire to carry freedom to distant strangers of strange habits and of uncertain civilization, is satisfied to leave American citizens on American soil in bondage to the trusts and monopolies begotten of Republican legislation, for that is nothing less than a condition of slavery which fetters individual energy and gives to the favored few the fruits resulting from the labor of the many.

"Tammany Hall condemns the waging of war for conquest as un-American in principle and false to the pledge of the Nation as given by the President of the United States. It condemns the unconstitutional war for conquest without the authorization of Congress. "In spite of its forbidden alliance with the British empire, the Republican admin istration has reached out for colonial deendencies, the control of which means the last step in the direction of imperialism and military government by the United States. That accomplished there will be nothing but name and location to disinguish the American government from the monarchies of Europe. The country of Washington, the Republic of Jefferson, the Union of Lincoln, will have given way to the glory of American empire and the standing army, the curse of European civilization, the scourge of European homes, will have come to blight the homes of America and to dominate her civilization. From every country in Europe, to escape the tyranny of the standing army, millions of our countrymen have sought citizenship and homes in America. American fathers and mothers have a right to the ompanionship of their sons in a peaceulness of home. Their sons, though ready to yield up their lives, if need be, for home, have a right to the pursuit of their own happiness unmolested by warfare which is neither for the honor of the flag nor the security of home. But the future America's young manhood is limited by the Republican principle to either military service on distant fields of doubtful glory, or to a lifetime of useless struggle against

Colonel Durbin said he had not been doing any particular work thus far in the campaign, but from this time on, he said, he would be out over the State practically all the time. He says, however, that he does not intend to make a feature of speech-making. The colonel feels very much encouraged with the prospects and cannot see a smaller plurality for the Republicans than in 1898. The platform constructed by the Democrats could not have been more favorable to Republican results had the Republicans made it themselves, according to Colonel Durbin's opinion.

tion in the Fourth District. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MADISON, Ind., July 20.-Fourth district Republicans are manifesting much quiet enthusiasm over the announcement by Nathan Powell that he will accept the nomination for Congress, and are determined that he shall represent them in that high office. Mr. Powell has expressed, and still expresses, a wish that some one else be selected by the convention for the race, but consents, if the convention desires to him and enter the campaign vigorously, with no thought but that of triumphant uccess in November Mr. Powell is a successful business man of Madison. He was graduated from Hanover College in 1884, and immediately there-Jefferson county delegation to the North Vernon convention next Tuesday will be

Force, of Center township, once presihome from Idaho, where he had attended | dent of the Farmers' Alliance, and who has held many high positions in the councils of the Populist party during the past eight years, and who left the Republican party because he sought relief from the panic and its effects, and who supported Bryan with more individual force and strength than any other single person in this or surrounding counties, was introduced to the audience as one of the prodigal sons of this year. He made a speech which pleased his audience and said, among other things, that he knew now where the safety and the prosperity of the Nation rests, and applauded the sacrifices and work of President McKinley, appealing to his neighbors and countrymen to take the side of the right which they must see and know. He said that for the sake of his children, who are growing up, he could not afford to be a Democrat, or a Populist, even if he could

The delegation from Frankfort arrived this morning. There were sixty in this crowd, and among their time this morning in pinning Harney badges on every man they met without as if Harney was the choice of threefourths of the people in town. The delegation from Fountain count headed by the Covington Band, arrived at noon and the Boone, Carroll and Tipte county delegates also arrived. Most of them are wearing the Allen badge.

> Religion of Politics. The two leading candidates have their special friends, who are working for their success. There seems to be more tolabout Allen's record than there is about Harney's. The main thing said against Allen is the fact that he is at present engaged in holding down the average rebel in the Philippines by means of the gun, whi his party's platform denounces it. There seems to be plenty of money put up by some one, as free meals and lodging are furnished to all strangers. The Montgomery county Democrats are after Allen's scalp and they will get it if opportunity offers. It is charged that the managers of the Allen boom have offered $500 to each central committee of all the counties in the district, except Fountain, where $1,000 has
